SHIKHAR
TRAVELS

About us

The Key to Unlimited Adventure lies with us!!

Our Strength and Experience

Started as a small company in 1979 by seasoned mountaineer Capt. Swadesh Kumar, Shikhar has grown steadily over the years to one of the largest adventure tour operators of India. Today Shikhar Travel has become a brand name among travelers from all over world looking for adventure in Indian subcontinent. With efforts from its young, dedicated and enthusiastic team, Shikhar explored unknown and undiscovered areas, opened new vistas and experimented with variations to specialize in vast range of adventure activities covering almost all aspects of adventure tours. As India's leading specialist in the field, we now offer the most diverse range of trips to cover almost all adventure sports.

Our strength lies in providing comfortable journey in the most difficult terrain while adhering to all safety and environment friendly norms. To ensure that travellers enjoy thrill of adventure, we provide hygienically cooked food and international standard camping equipment like Sleeping tents, mattresses, dining tent toilets etc. We do recommend that the clients should bring their own sleeping bags along with their other personal clothing.

Our valued customers

It's matter of pride for Shikhar Travels that some of the world-renowned explorers like Sir Edmund Hillary, Mr. Rhenold Messner, Ms Junko Tabei, Capt. M. S. Kohli, Mr. Y Shirakawa have put their trust in our expertise whenever they had chance to visit India. The list of the famous explorers is unending. Apart from handling treks and expeditions for TV Channel's like Discovery and Sony, we have handled expeditions, treks and safari on behalf of clubs and association around the world.

Who goes with you

All our tours are led by highly experienced Trip Managers from Shikhar Travels, and we have uncompromisingly high expectations from them. Our dedicated team of Mountain Guides are well educated and fully trained in their respective areas of work. They have undergone extensive training in mountaineering, first-aid, rescue and scaled peaks in Himalayas. With their wealth of first-hand experience and knowledge, they strive to make each journey a memorable experience. Not only showing monuments and places to take photos, but they also take care of you in every step and assist you in interacting with the local inhabitants of the area you visit. They are well trained to handle the contingencies (if any) due to unforeseen circumstances.

Food & Kitchen crew

Our forte is the food we provide to our clients during camping. We feel very proud that all our clients, irrespective of their nationality and religion, have thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated the hygienic and delicious food provided by our cooks. Traveling with tourists from various countries, our kitchen staff have developed expertise in preparing all kind of food, be it ethnic Indian food, Chinese or continental. We ensure that our valued customers get freshly prepared hot meals during treks and safari. Our cooks are fully trained and very well experienced.

Trekking

We have offered a number of trekking programs in our brochure in the various parts of Indian Himalayas, from Ladakh to Arunachal and Nagaland. We have tried our best to see that all important trekking routes are covered in these programs. Every year we keep adding new destinations, new concepts and new combination to make the product more and more interesting.

Safaris and other programs

Apart from overland Jeep Safaris in different part of the Himalayas and desert region, you also have an opportunity to do sailing, bicycling, wildlife and many other adventure tours.

Cultural Experience

We make all efforts to see that you have an opportunity to interact with the local people, visit their houses and to experience their culture and traditions in their homeland. Whenever possible we organize cultural programs in the evening where you will have an opportunity to enjoy and participate in folk dance and music. You can also teach the local people one of your own regional games and share your experiences.

Branch offices

We have our branch office in Uttarkashi which is the main center for expeditions in Garhwal Himalayas. Also, we have our associate offices throughout India.

Insurance

For your protection from uncertainty, we highly recommend that traveler should cover themselves for trip cancellation insurance. Insurance can provide extra protection if you have unexpected expenses through accident, illness, loss of luggage, cancelled or interrupted flight due to unavoidable reason. We also recommend the insurance to be taken from your country of resident since it is not possible to cover you under insurance in India as per the insurance rules.

Value for Money

In association with our branch & associate offices throughout the area of operation, we are constantly looking for the best facilities, hotel prices that can consolidate into competitive holiday value. Your holiday means a great deal to you, and it means a lot to us to give you a good deal. Please let us give you a quote without obligation.

Mt. Kedar Dome Expedition (Uttarakhand)

Mt. Kedar Dome peak is a dome shaped mountain in Garhwal range of Himalayas in Uttarakhand India. The peak is 6831 meters above sea level and serves as a ski down peak if the weather is favourable. Kedar dome is relatively easy peak to climb but would require past climbing experience and ability to survive in high altitude Himalayan weather. It is a magnificent marvel of nature and holds sentimental values to Hindus - as the peak's name itself is that of Lord Shiva. Kedar Dome has the gentle Northwest flank that provides perhaps the easiest and most frequent climb in the Gangotri area.

Mount Aconcagua (Seven Summit)

Aconcagua is a mighty peak, standing at 22,841 ft, it is the second highest mountain of the Seven Summits after Everest and the tallest peak outside the Himalaya and in the Western Hemisphere. A true test, it straddles the Andes and is roughly equal distance between the stunning South American towns of Mendoza, Argentina and Santiago in Chile. A rugged challenge, the mountain sits in a predominately arid, hot climate which makes for stable summer climbing but still offers some snow and championing high on the peak. Not to be underestimated, the altitude, elevation gains and load carries make it unique and arduous but an amazing accomplishment for even the seasoned mountaineer.

Mount Vinson Massif (Seven Summit)

Vinson Massif is one of the great mountains of the world and a truly wild adventure as the highest mountain in Antarctica and likely the coldest mountain on earth. In fact, fewer people have summited Vinson than Mt. Everest, this is because it lies deep in the heart of the mighty Ellsworth Mountain range and until recently it was very inaccessible and a logistical nightmare to climb. It's only in the last few decades that guided clients been able to climb Vinson. It truly is an otherworldly experience and not one you will soon forget.

Mount Kosciuszko (Seven Summit)

The Snowy Mountains in NSW Australia is one of the most unique alpine environments in the world. The landscape itself is defined by gumtrees, wildflowers and limestone gorges and is home to Australia's largest mainland peak, Mt Kosciuszko.

The topography of Kosciuszko National Park makes for rugged and challenging environment that is perfectly suited to an Alpine Academy which focuses on teaching people the fundamentals of mountaineering and backcountry travel to prepare them for bigger more technical objectives aboard.

The CTSS Australian Alpine Academy offers two in depth programs, you can choose from either our 'Introduction to Mountaineering – Alpine Academy' which prepares you for bigger, international peaks or our 'Winter Ascent of Kosciuszko as part of the Seven Summits – or combine them together for a once in a lifetime Australian winter experience.

Itinerary

Day 1: Your journey commences as you arrive at Sydney Airport. Upon your arrival, our team will warmly welcome you and provide transportation to your designated hotel, where you can relax and settle in for your upcoming adventure.

Day 2: After a comfortable night's rest, you will embark on a picturesque 6-hour drive from Sydney to Jindabyne. This scenic journey will offer you a glimpse of Australia's stunning landscapes as you make your way to your next destination.

Day 3: Today, the real adventure begins as you set out on a thrilling trek to the summit of Kosciuszko Peak. This challenging yet rewarding hike will take you through breathtaking natural beauty, offering you the opportunity to witness the wonders of the Australian wilderness. Once you've conquered the summit, you will make your way back to Jindabyne, where you can unwind and relish the memories of your achievement.

Day 4: As your expedition ends, you will bid farewell to Jindabyne and commence your journey back to Sydney. Reflect on the experiences and memories you've created during your time in the wilderness as you travel back to the bustling city.

Day 5: On the final day of your adventure, you will board your return flight from Sydney. Carry the memories of your trek to Kosciuszko Peak with you as you head back home, cherishing the moments and experiences that will stay with you for a lifetime.

Mount Elbrus (Seven Summit)

Mount Elbrus in Russia is one of the most approachable climbs of the Seven Summits and an ideal starting point for anyone wishing to become familiar with high altitude climbing and learn or solidify technical mountaineering skills like championing, self-arrest and fixed line climbing.

The highest mountain in Europe, it is an extinct volcano which last erupted in 50AD. Today its crater is glaciated and filled with snow and ice which offers a fantastic, yet highly achievable summit. It sits deep in the Caucasus range, which stretches 700 miles in length. The range includes the fourteen highest mountains in Europe with Elbrus tucked deep in the Southwestern corner of Russia, close to the Georgia border.

Itinerary

Day 1: Arrival and Orientation

Arrive at MinVody Airport. Our team will meet you and transfer you to a comfortable private hotel located on the picturesque Cheget glade in the Elbrus region. After settling in, enjoy a delicious dinner at the hotel.

Day 2: Exploring Cheget

Embark on an exhilarating ascent to Mount Cheget, reaching an altitude of 2750 meters. From there, hike to the captivating Cheget Peak and the serene Lake Donguz-Orun. Lunch packages will be provided on your journey. Return to the hotel to unwind and indulge in a satisfying dinner.

Day 3: Acclimatization Adventure

Choose an acclimatization hike that suits your preferences: either venture into the Terskol gorge, heading to the "New Horizons" shelter at 2900 meters, or opt for a scenic hike along the Terskol river valley. Enjoy a hearty lunch before returning to the hotel for dinner.

Day 4: Ascending to Gara-Bashy

Embark on an exciting cable car journey to the "Gara-Bashy" tourist hotel at an impressive altitude of 3800 meters. Utilizing the "Elbrus" and "Gara-Bashi" cableways, you'll be treated to breathtaking views. Accommodation for the night will be in cozy Gara-Bashi barrels. After lunch, acclimatize further by hiking to "Shelter-11" at 4000 meters. As the day draws to a close, return to the Gara-Bashi base for a nourishing dinner.

Day 5: Reaching Pastukhov Rocks

Challenge yourself with an acclimatization hike to the awe-inspiring Pastukhov rocks, standing at an impressive altitude of 4800 meters. Enjoy lunch on the way with provided packages. After reaching this notable milestone, return to the Gara-Bashi base for dinner, feeling accomplished.

Day 6: A Well-Deserved Rest

Take a well-deserved day of rest to recharge and relax. Enjoy the amenities of the hotel or take leisurely walks in the surrounding area.

Day 7: Summiting Mt. Elbrus

The pinnacle of the expedition has arrived. Today, you'll conquer the summit of Mt. Elbrus, rising majestically to an impressive height of 5642 meters. With carefully prepared lunch packages, fuel your climb as you embrace the challenges and triumphs of reaching the top. After this monumental achievement, return to the Gara-Bashi base for lunch before beginning your descent into the valley.

Day 8: Contingency and Descent

This day is reserved for unforeseen contingencies or additional rest. Following any necessary adjustments, make your descent to the hotel in Cheget.

Day 9: Journey Home

Bid farewell to the stunning Elbrus region as we provide a comfortable transfer back to the airport, concluding your remarkable journey.

Mount Denali (Seven Summit)

Denali is truly rugged and known to have some of the worst weather in the world, at a latitude of 63 degrees North, Denali is just 200 miles South of the Arctic Circle. Every year it attracts climbers from all over the world including the world's best alpinists to test themselves on the peak that many consider to be the most challenging of the Seven Summits. Not only for the extreme conditions but also the workload required. Climbers need to be able to carry all their own gear, make their own camps and prepare their own food as a team, unlike other mountains where high-altitude porters help with the work

Itinerary

Day 1: Travel

Gather with the guides at Anchorage International Airport (Domestic Terminal), carousel 1, located within the Alaska Airlines baggage claim area

As part of the program, shuttle transportation to Talkeetna is provided. The shuttle departs at 2:00 p.m. and the journey takes approximately three hours to reach Talkeetna. During the trip, there will be a stop at a grocery store in Wasilla, offering you the opportunity to purchase any fresh food items you may wish to bring along for the mountain expedition. The team is expected to arrive in Talkeetna at approximately 5:00 p.m. where we will spend the night.

Day 2: Pre-Expedition Preparation and Training

Our primary objective for the day is to ensure the team is well-prepared for the upcoming flight to the mountain. Following our breakfast meeting, the team will participate in a presentation by the National Park Service, which will cover expedition climbing and specific considerations related to Denali National Park & Preserve. We will then shift our focus to equipment, conducting a comprehensive personal gear check and providing recommendations on what to bring for the ascent to Base Camp, along with guidance on how to pack efficiently for the flight. Finally, we will organize the group's food and equipment, putting the finishing touches on our packing for the flight. We will enjoy a final meal in town before embarking on our expedition. Overnight in Talkeetna.

Day 3: Air Journey to Kahiltna Base Camp

Following breakfast, we assemble at K2 Aviation for our bush plane flight to Kahiltna Base Camp, weather permitting. This thrilling scenic flight typically lasts about 45 minutes. Kahiltna Base Camp is situated at an elevation of 7,300' on the southeastern branch of the Kahiltna Glacier, approximately 20 miles away and 13,000' below the South Peak of Denali, which stands at 20,310'. Upon arrival at Base Camp, we prepare our sleds and conduct a review of the essential mountaineering skills necessary for our ascent.

Note: Denali expeditions are highly flexible, lasting around 18 days on average. We prioritize adaptability to account for weather, route conditions, acclimatization, and team strength. Our experienced guides make daily adjustments to optimize our summit chances. We carry 22 days of food, extendable in bad weather, with emergency rations at Kahiltna Base Camp. The provided itinerary outlines camps and route details but doesn't consider potential delays.

Day 4: Journey from Kahiltna Base Camp to the Base of Ski Hill

Departing from Kahiltna Base Camp, we descend approximately 400 feet down Heart Break Hill to reach the primary expanse of the Kahiltna Glacier. From there, we set our course towards Denali, covering a distance of 5.5 miles over the gradually ascending glacial terrain. Our camp is established at the foot of Ski Hill, positioned at an elevation of 7,800 feet.

Day 5: Ski Hill Camp to Cache

Ski Hill marks our initial significant elevation gain on this journey. As we traverse a series of glacial rolls, the Kahiltna Glacier ascends from our camp at the base of Ski Hill toward Kahiltna Pass at 10,000'. We depart from our camp and ascend the glacier to create a food and fuel cache near Kahiltna Pass. Afterwards, we return to the base of Ski Hill for the night.

Day 6: Ski Hill Camp to Camp

We retrace our path from the previous day, passing by our cache, and continue our ascent up a glacial valley to reach our camp located within a basin at the base of Motorcycle Hill.

Day 7: Acclimatization Day at Camp

Today is dedicated to rest and acclimatization. We take the opportunity to review crampon and self-arrest techniques and organize supplies in preparation for our forthcoming carry day. Acclimatization Day at Camp 3.

Day 8: 11k Camp to Cache

Our journey from 11K Camp begins with a climb up Motorcycle Hill, where we reach a plateau offering breathtaking vistas of the Father and Sons Wall and the Peters Glacier. Continuing our ascent, we navigate Squirrel Hill, ultimately arriving at the expansive Polo Field, a wide glacial bench at the base of the West Buttress. Progressing further, we circumvent Windy Corner at 13,300', reaching our cache location at 13,500'. Here, we deposit our group's food, fuel, and personal items before descending back to our tents at 11K Camp.

Day 9: Acclimatization Day at 11k Camp

Today is a pivotal acclimatization day, crucial for our impending move to 14K Camp. We dedicate the day to rest, hydration, nourishment, and organizing our supplies in preparation for our transition day.

Day 10: 11k Camp to 14k Camp

As we break camp, we proceed toward our new destination at 14K Camp. We retrace our path around Windy Corner, passing our cache site, and continue the climb to 14,200' in Genet Basin, where we will establish our camp for the next few days.

Day 11: 14k Camp to Cache

We retrace our previous steps, descending to our cache site at 13,500'. After retrieving our equipment, we return to 14K Camp, dedicating the afternoon to camp improvement and relaxation.

Day 12: Acclimatization Day at 14k Camp

Today's focus is on rest, hydration, and acclimatizing to the higher altitude. We practice fixed line travel and running belays, while also organizing another load of gear, all in preparation for our carry onto the West Buttress.

Day 13: 14k Camp to Cache

We commence our ascent from the northern side of Genet Basin, gaining access to the fixed lines at approximately 15,200'. These lines lead us to the ridge line of the West Buttress at 16,200'. Depending on various factors such as time, weather, route conditions, and our energy levels, we may choose to establish our cache at the top of the fixed lines or continue higher along the West Buttress towards 17K Camp before depositing our loads. Following the cache, we return to 14K Camp for the night.

Day 14: Acclimatization Day at 14k Camp

With a relaxed start to the day, our priority is to stay well-hydrated and nourished in preparation for our move to High Camp and the subsequent summit attempt.

Depending on weather conditions, we may take a short walk across Genet Basin to the Edge of the World. From this vantage point, we can gaze down nearly 7,000' to the Northeast Fork of the Kahiltna, catch a glimpse of our initial camp at the Base of Ski Hill, and enjoy breathtaking views of 17,402' Mt. Foraker.

Day 15: 14k Camp to 17k Camp

We once again ascend the northern side of Genet Basin, reaching the fixed lines that lead to the ridge crest of the West Buttress at 16,200'. Continuing along the ridge crest, we retrieve any necessary supplies from our cache before proceeding to our High Camp at 17,200'.

Day 16: Summit Day

Our summit attempt begins with an extended traverse along the Autobahn, eventually reaching Denali Pass at 18,200'. Beyond Denali Pass, we follow the ridge line, passing notable landmarks such as the Zebra Rocks and the Archdeacon's Tower, until we reach the Football Field at 19,200'. From here, we ascend 600 vertical feet to reach the summit ridge, culminating in the airy summit ridge walk to the South Peak. Following a celebratory moment on the summit, we trace our route back to High Camp. Summit day can be lengthy, requiring preparation for a 12 to 14-hour round trip.

Day 17: 17k Camp to 11k Camp

After a well-earned rest, we dismantle our camp and initiate our descent down the West Buttress. We pause briefly at 14K Camp to collect any cached items before continuing our descent to 11K Camp, where we will spend the night.

Day 18: 11k Camp to Kahiltna Base Camp

Equipped with our reconfigured sleds and snowshoes, we commence our descent along the main Kahiltna Glacier, heading toward the base of Heartbreak Hill. From there, we prepare for the uphill trek to Kahiltna Base on the Southeast Fork of the Kahiltna.

Day 19: Base Camp to Talkeetna (Fly Off)

Talkeetna is just a 45-minute flight away from Kahiltna Base Camp, weather permitting. Weather conditions may sometimes necessitate waiting for a break. At this stage of the expedition, our team is in the capable hands of the professional bush pilots of K2 Aviation. When the weather cooperates, we will load onto the planes and return to Talkeetna, where we can enjoy a hot shower and celebrate with a team meal. Overnight in Talkeetna.

Day 20: Travel

we'll arrange for transportation to Anchorage International Airport (ANC) for our respective outbound flights.

Day 21: Reserve day

kept flexible for any unforeseen needs or adjustments.

Join Shikhar Travels to fulfil your dreams, choose one of your favourite Kilimanjaro climbs that will take you to the highest Mountain of Africa (Uhuru Peak).

Itinerary

Day 01: Arrival

Arrival at Kilimanjaro International Airport (JRO), where you will meet an Travel representative, and transfer to the hotel under the rate. The hotel will provide all the essentials for a comfortable stay: cozy rooms, hot water, polite staff, a swimming pool, and Internet access. In the evening there will be a briefing with our managers, who will also make sure you are ready to begin the climb.

Please Note: Check-In starts at 2:00 pm

Day 2: Trekking from Marangu Gate to Mandara Hut

A guide and a mountain support crew will arrive at the hotel in the morning to meet you and hold a quick briefing, after which you will travel by vehicle to Kilimanjaro National Park's eastern entrance: Marangu Gate (1,860m/6102f). After the quick formality of acquiring climbing permits and registering the group will start trekking up to Mandara Hut (2,720 m /8,922 f). The trekking route includes passage through the rainforest (where tropical showers are highly probable), so we recommend you take not only spare clothes but also your raincoats. When you reach the camp, our mountain support crew will take care of the necessities and prepare lunch.

Throughout the entire Marangu route, you will be spending your nights in special huts. They offer a great alternative to those who do not want to sleep in tents.

Day 3: Trekkinng from Mandaara hut to Harombo Hut

The group will wake early for a filling breakfast, and then depart Mandara Hut. This trek heads to the second high altitude camp: Horombo Hut (3,720 m /12,202 f). When you reach the camp on this day, you will be treated to views of two volcanos at once: Kibo and Mawenzi.

Several hours after lunch you will have to complete an acclimatization hike in the direction of Kibo Hut with a 200 m /656 f gain in altitude, and then hike back down to Horombo Hut where dinner will be prepared for you.

Note: The acclimatization hike is an easy trek with a slight gain in altitude done to speed up the acclimatization process. You should take the acclimatization hikes very seriously. They help increase your chances of successfully summiting Kilimanjaro and save you from the consequences of altitude sickness.

Acclimatization hike:

- Change in Elevation: Horombo Hut (3,720 m /12,204 f)
- Destination points a route to Kibo Hut (3,920 m /12,861 f)
- Hiking distance: 2.5 km
- Hiking time: 1-2 hours
- Trekking time: 6 hours
- Distance: 11 km

Day 4: Acclimatization Day at Horombo Hut

After breakfast, you will go on an acclimatization hike towards Kibo Hut and back to the camp. Then, after lunch, you have the opportunity to walk around the surrounding area, take pictures of Mawenzi Volcano or just sleep before the upcoming trek to Kibo Hut. To enhance your acclimatization transition, the team will spend this night at the very same altitude at Horombo Hut camp.

Acclimatization hike:

- Change in Elevation: Horombo Hut (3,720 m /12,205 f)
- Destination points en route to Kibo Hut (4,500 m /14,763 f)
- Hiking distance: 5-8 km
- Hiking Time: 3-4 hours

Day 5: Trekking from Horombo Hut to Kibo Hut

On this day, right after breakfast, the group will be trekking to the Kibo Hut (4,720 m /15,482 f). The actual trekking is not very difficult, just remember to stick with an appropriate pace to preserve your strength for the climbing to Kilimanjaro's summit. When you reach the camp, you will be served lunch, after which we recommend you sleep as much as you can, avoid any strenuous activity, and drink lots of water.

Trekking Time: 4-8 hours

Distance: 10 km

Day 6: Trekking to Uhuru Peak and Descent to Horombo Hut

Your group will depart at night from Kibo Hut (4,720 m /15,482 f) and begin the trek to Kilimanjaro's summit: Uhuru Peak (5,895 m /19,336 f). The trekking will be moderate from a technical standpoint, but the altitude presents a challenge, making even regular physical activity feel strenuous. For the entire length of the summit trek, each pair of climbers will be accompanied by their own guide, who will be monitoring the pair's stamina and mental resolve. After your successful ascent to Uhuru Peak, you can descend to the nearest glacier if desired. Then you will return to Kibo Camp and enjoy a two-hour rest before continuing your descent to Horombo Hut (3,720 m /12,202 f).

Note: Don't forget that 90% of all accidents occur during the descent, including most broken arms and legs. Please pay attention to your feet, as there is a high risk of damaging your toenails.

Trekking Time: 9-12 hours

Distance: 16 km

Day 7: Descent from Horombo Hut to Marangu Gate

You will be offered a warm breakfast in the morning, after which we will head for the Kilimanjaro National Park's exit: Marangu Gate (1,970 m / 6,462 f). After your descent, the whole group will gather to congratulate you, and then you will have the chance to share your opinions on the trip in the guestbook. Lastly, we will present you with your commemorative certificates and provide you with a transfer back to the hotel.

Trekking Time: 5-6 hours

Distance: 18 km

Day 8: Departure

Rest in the hotel and transfer to the airport.

Note: Hotel check-out is at 11:00 AM. In case you need a late check-out because of an evening flight, there is the option to extend your hotel stay for an extra fee.
